Republicans negative campaign tactics hurt Morris Township

EDITOR:

Negative campaigning is wrong for Morris Township

Here we go again. Sleazy “Karl Rove” tactics in Morris Township. Character assassination attempts against Jeff Grayzel. It’s an insult to our intelligence, demoralizing to citizens of all political parties, and a distraction from the issues important to Morris Township. The ugliness of tone must mean that Grayzel’s fight for open government is creating fear among the ruling block.

Why do they fear open government? Is it because Jeff’s insightful questions and oversight have challenged the status quo? Because his questions cause elected officials and Township employees to reach a bit higher, try harder, and work smarter and more efficiently? In my book that’s called leadership.

I’m a sitting member of the Morris Township Committee and have worked side by side with Jeff Grayzel for five years. He’s tireless and fights for what is good for all our citizens--regardless of their party affiliations. He’s also been instrumental in getting our residents more involved in their local Government—again, a true non-partisan effort that benefits our entire community.

I’m proud to be working alongside this proven leader.
